

A short man in a scarf starts to sing on his own in a shaky voice.

A man with a shaven head joins in.

All their mates start singing as well.

They shout the word 'faithful' the first time it comes up in the song.

They all sing the first chorus together.

The camera zooms in on an older man wearing a cap who is singing.

A woman in the middle of it all raises her eyebrows.

The men at the back push forward as they repeat the chorus.

The camera zooms in on a man who is missing his front teeth.

As they finish singing, one fan pats another on the back or shoulder.

They all go back to drinking and chatting.

Accompanying video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ruAF71UVMTC>